ALLAN BUYS
MARSHALL'S
FEED STORE

BUSINESS DEAL CLOSED BY HARRY ALLAN AND M. M.
MARSHALL THURSDAY

Announcement was made Thursday by Harry A. Allan, of his purchase of the building supply and feed departments of the M. M. Marshall Feed and Grain Company. Mr. Marshall will continue in the seed and grain business, in his present location.

For the present, Mr. Allan will continue the feed and building supply warehouse on north Vine street, which Mr. Marshall has maintained for years, but eventually will consolidate the building supply business with his own building material lines at his location on north Indiana street. The feed business will be discontinued by Mr. Allan, probably within a month.
Until that time John Able will be in charge of this department at the present location of Mr. Marshall. The deal was made through Milo West, it was announced.

In most places the building supply business is a part of the building material lines and it was because of this close connection, that Mr. Allan purchased the building supply business to consolidate it with his own kindred lines.

IN LEGISLATURE 50 YEARS AGO Among problems confronting legislators of 50 years ago was that of grazing livestock which owners allowed to run at large. Often considerable damage was done to neighborhood crops by herds of cows and sheep. To solve the problem, Senator Poindexter introduced a bill to prohibit running of livestock at large.

The public school library question was placed before the senators in petitions of several thousand Evansville, Richmond, Fort Wayne and South Bend residents, asking enactment of a law for public libraries in connection with free school systems in towns of more than 15,000.

THE WEATHER
Mostly fair tonight and Friday; not quite so cold.

DELEGATION
WIN LENIENCY
FOR MORPHEW

SENTENCE OF 1 TO 10 YEARS SUSPENDED THURSDAY BY JUDGE HUGHES

SALLUST TAKEN TO PRISON

Leading Citizens of Bainbridge Inter-ceded In Behalf of Youth Convicted of Grand Larceny Harold Morpew, 18 year old Bainbridge youth, under sentence of one to ten years in the Indiana state reformatory, had his sentence suspended by Judge James P. Hughes in the Putnam Circuit court early Thursday morning, and was released in custody of a big delegation of Bainbridge citizens whose interest in his case won him clemency.

Clyde Sallust, 21 years old, also of Bainbridge, companion of Morpew in the theft of nine bushels of clover seed from the Miller Grain Company at Bainbridge January 14, was taken to the reformatory Thursday morning by Sheriff Alva Bryan to serve his sentence of one to ten years. Both youths were sentenced in the Putnam circuit court Wednesday morning.

Although Judge Hughes indicated Wednesday when he sentenced the two youths that he would not suspend either sentence, he was influenced to suspend Morpew's sentence Thursday when a delegation of eleven leading Bainbridge citizens appeared personally in behalf of Morpew and also carried a petition signed by over fifty persons residing in the community. The names on the petition included that of Harley E. Miller, from whom the clover seed was stolen. The delegation pointed out that Morpew had never been in trouble before and they believed he had been influenced in the seed theft by Sallust.

Morpew was a shame-faced boy when he appeared before Judge Hughes and the Bainbridge delegation Thursday morning. He must have anticipated and dreaded this ordeal because it was said he broke down and sobbed his desire to be taken to the reformatory at Pendleton with Sallust early Thursday morning when Sheriff Bryan left with his prisoner. It is believed the lesson will be sufficient to keep Morpew out of trouble in the future.

Sallust and Morpew were charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of clover seed. Their apprehension followed the tracing of a license number obtained by an Indianapolis grain dealer to whom the seed was sold.

SIGNED

ANNIVERSARY
LUNCHEON OF
KIWANIS CLUB

PAST PRESIDENT B. H. BRUNER EXPLAINS IDEALS AND AIMS OF CLUB

MEETING THURSDAY NOON

Civic Organization Sixteen Years Old
This Week. Members Enjoy Splendid Meeting

B. H. Bruner, past president of the Greencastle Kiwanis Club, was speaker at the meeting Thursday noon at the Christian church. The week of January 18 to 24 is being observed by the Kiwanis clubs throughout North America as anniversary week. Mr.
Bruner said:

"This is birthday week for Kiwanis International. On January 21, 1915 the first club received its charter and the organization was on its way. The first club was organized in Detroit, Mich. The name comes from an Indian word originally spelled 'Kee-wanis.' This word meant, 'To make one's self known,' and the motto of the club became, 'We Build.' In 1924 the official name of the organization became, 'Kiwanis International.' In the sixteen years of its history this organization has grown in numbers and influence and is now recognized as one of the outstanding service clubs in America.

"I am more interested in this brief address on the future of Kiwanis International than I am on the past. Kiwanis International has had a great past, but its present opportunity and work is in the future. Kiwanis began as a purely material organization. It soon developed into an organization with the highest idealism. It offered the combination of organization and idealism in our business and professional life, and through this combination it has done its greatest work.
Fred. C. Parker, the International secretary of Kiwanis says: Kiwanis idealism must be preserved.
Kiwanis has hitched its organization wagon to the star of idealism. The purpose and ideals as expressed in the constitution can never be outgrown.
They will suffice for all time. 'They are the spirit that gives the organization its dynamic. Here and there I have heard this idealism disparaged.
Let us not be ashamed of our high ideals. Apologize not for Kiwanis idealism. When the soul of Kiwanis has departed, the Kiwanis body will be ready for burial.'

"Raymond M. Crossman, president of Kiwanis International, in a recent address tells us that the supreme aim of our organization is to give primacy to the human and spiritual rather than the material values of life. Then he goes on to tell of this experience:
'A very dear Kiwanis friend of mine presented me recently with a book entitled, 'A Business Man's Creed.' It was written by Roger B. Babson. In this book Mr. Babson records a conversation with Charles P. Steinmetz, who in his lifetime was connected with the General Electric Company and recognized as the world's foremost electrical engineer. In this conversation Mr. Babson asked Mr. Steinmetz: 'What line of research will see the greatest development during the next fifty years?' After careful thought he replied: 'Mr. Babson, I think the greatest discoveries will be along spiritual lines. History clearly teaches that spiritual forces have been the greatest power in the development of men and nations. Yet we have been playing with them merely, and have never seriously studied them as we have the physical forces. Some day people will learn that material things do not bring happiness and are of little use in making men creative and powerful. When this day comes, the world will see more advancement in one generation than it has seen in the past four.' The future of Kiwanis is assured because it has cast its lot with the spiritual forces of the universe rather than the purely material.'

"Kiwanis stands for leadership in service. An organization which seeks to tie up the best leadership in the community to the real service-projects has a future before it. After all is said and done, the man or the organization which serves best, is the organization which wins and holds the confidence of the community. What Kiwanis does it does without any thought of any material returns. Its one aim is to make its community better and to enrich the lives of all men and women. When it departs from this ideal, it will have had its day."

Kiwanis is a building organization.
It stands for the building of better things in the life of the world, and it does its work by building better men.
The primary thing in Kiwanis is that of building character in its membership, that this character may pay

JUDGE HUGHES CHOSEN

A motion for a change of venue from judge was filed Tuesday in the Adams township trustee contest case, the motion being filed by attorney Omer O'Harrow, representing the con-testee, Samuel Gash. The motion was Monroe-Owen circuit, Judge James P.

Hughes of the Putnam circuit court, and Judge Fremont Miller, of the Johnson-Brown circuit court as the list from which to secure a special judge.

name, the name of Judge Hughes of Greencastle, remained and he was appointed special judge.

The case has been set for trial on Friday, Jan. 30.

Smythe Heads
Cloverdale Bank

O. V. SMYTHE NAMED PRESI-DENT TO SUCCEED D. V.
MOFFETT

Directors of the First National Bank of Cloverdale held a meeting Wednesday evening for the election of a president to succeed Daniel V.
Moffett who died last Saturday. Otto V. Smythe, cashier of the bank for several years, was elected president of the institution. Edward W. Smythe, teller in the First National Bank of Greencastle, was elected cashier, and George B. Rockwell was elected vice president.

Mr. Smythe, the former cashier who succeeds D. V. Moffett as president, has been connected with the bank as its cashier since the organization, and the success of the bank has been largely due to the efficient manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the bank, and with his experience and his courteous manner to the public, the directors feel sure that his selection as president will meet with the approval of the entire community, and that he will continue to enjoy the confidence of the people generally.

His son, Edward W. Smythe, who succeeds the former as cashier has had much valuable experience under the splendid training of the First National Bank of Greencastle. He is a young man of splendid character and habits, and the directors feel sure that his selection as cashier will be valuable assistance in conducting the affairs of the local bank. Russell Brown, president of the First National Bank of Greencastle, has said to the directors of the local bank that it is with much regret that they accept the re-signment of Mr. Smythe, and the fine compliments paid to Mr. Smythe by Mr. Brown certainly are worth while.

Mrs. Melbie B. Linley, who succeeds herself as assistant cashier, has been connected with the bank for a number of years and her splendid and efficient service and courteous treatment of the customers and friends of the bank will, the directors feel sure, warrant the approval of her continuance as assistant cashier.

The directors elected January 13 at the annual stockholders meeting were as follows:

Daniel V. Moffett
O. V. Smythe
Herbert Foster
George B. Rockwell
Abe Cohn

VERDICT OF
$3,300 IN DAMAGE SUIT

MARTHA ELLEN BOSLEY WINS SUIT GROWING OUT OF ACCIDENT

JURY OUR FOUR HOURS WED.

Insurance Company Will Pay Judgement In Case Which Was On Trial Three Days

A jury hearing the damage suit of Martha Ellen Bosley, administratrix and widow of Joseph Bosley, against Norman Sorrell of Brazil, returned a verdict of $3,300 in favor of the plaintiff in the Putnam circuit court late Wednesday afternoon.

Trial of the case which grew out of an automobile accident on the National road west of Brazil, March 5, 1930, when an automobile driven by Sorrell struck and fatally injured Bosley, opened in the local court Monday morning and went to the jury Wednesday noon. The verdict was returned about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It was said the jury made an immediate finding in favor of Mrs. Bosley but spent the four hours in assessing the amount of damages to be allowed her.
A total of $5,000 had been asked.

It was said that the damages, unless an appeal is taken, will be paid by an insurance company with which Sorrell carried a policy.

Attorneys in the case took the entire morning Wednesday making final arguments before the jury. Touching appeals were made by attorneys for Mrs. Bosley, who pointed out that she had been deprived of the love and companionship, as well as the support of her husband, in the declining years of her life. Attorneys for the defense attempted to show that Bosley had walked out on the pavement in front of the Sorrell car without taking proper precautions to look both ways on the well-traveled highway.

The suit was brought here on a change of venue from Clay county.

Confesses Gambling for Large Stakes In Hotel At Springfield,

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 22, (UP)
—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, United States collector of internal revenue at Chicago, told police early today that she had been fleeced of $50,000 in cash and $207,500 "on paper," by two men with whom she played faro at the Abraham Lincoln hotel.

Mrs. Blackledge told police chief T.
P. Sullivan that she came here last Sunday, at the suggestion of a friend, and gambled with two men whose names were Reynolds and Parker, but whose first names she did not know.
At that time she said, she won $207,500 "on paper," which the men refused to pay until she had given cash for a $50,000 check which she had put into the game.

She went to Chicago, she said, and told Edward R. Litsinger, member of the board of review and a prominent politician, what had happened.

Litsinger, she said, furnished her with $50,000 in $1,000 bills, which she brought back to Springfield last night.
Again she gambled with the men, this time at another hotel, she said, and on the first deal lost all her $50,000.
The men left the room a few minutes later and disappeared.

Mrs. Blackledge, a woman about 45, expensively dressed and of very striking appearance, said that Fred Lit-singer, nephew of the politician, was in the room with her when she lost the $50,000 last night. Edward Lit-singer, she said, was in the hotel.

"Happy Days are here again" for some people.

Have you passed the noonday of Life?

Then make the down road happy by keeping your strength and health. An unending warning of a rundown condition is the diminishing of the red-blood-cells.

A DEFICIENCY of red-cells in the blood is usually followed by physical exhaustion, loss of appetite, underweight, nervousness and pimples and boils. When your red-blood-cells are only 80% you are NOT yourself—60% is very dangerous. Common sense suggests that every possible step be taken to correct such a condition. Take S.S.S. before each meal. It will build up and enrich your blood.

DEATH TAKES ALMA RUBENS, MOVIE STAR

DECEASED ONCE ACCLAIMED MOST BEAUTIFUL ACTRESS ON SILVER SCREEN

PNEUMONIA CAUSES DEATH

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22, (UP)—The checked career of Alma Rubens, stage and screen star, came to a peaceful and sudden end last night when she died of pneumonia.

Miss Rubens gained much publicity when it was learned she had become a drug addict. A long battle which she waged against narcotics aroused admiration for her fighting qualities and gained many friends far her.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND THREATENED HER LIFE

Divorced October 26, 1930, remarried to the same man on December 18, and a second separation from him on January 26, is the matrimonial experience of Mrs. Mae Frye as outlined in a suit for divorce filed against Walter H. Frye in the Putnam circuit court.

Mrs. Frye alleges she was divorced from her husband October 26, 1930, and that custody of the children were awarded to him at that time. She says that on December 11 the defendant begged her to remarry him, promising her that he would not mention farmer differences, would control his jealousy, would provide a home for her and bring their children back so she could have them with her. She says that she remarried him but that he has failed to keep any of these promises.

She further charges that her husband has threatened to kill her and has been carrying a revolver which he has drawn in her presence and waved around. That he has attempted to spy on her and accused her of unfaithfulness and has locked her out of their home so that she was forced to break in, are other charges.

In addition to the divorce complaint, the plaintiff also has filed application for suit money with which to prosecute her action. W. S. Donner and F. V. Thomas are attorneys for the plaintiff.

FEW CONTEST DIVORCE

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 21, (UP) —In only one of each 100 divorce cases is there a real contest, according to Judge Charles J. Ryan, of Allen superior court. During his eight years on the bench, Judge Ryan has granted more than 3,000 divorce decrees.

"In 99 per cent of divorce cases, both husband and wife want to be free. It merely is a question of which takes the initiative and begins proceedings. The right of the person filing a divorce suit is challenged by the other party in one about one per cent of the cases."

Of the many cases he has heard, the judge could remember but three which were contested.

Morning Musicale Met Wednesday

The regular meeting of the Greencastle Morning Musicale was held on Wednesday morning in the Methodist church. Mrs. Ben Riley, who was in charge of the program, presented the subject of the oratorio in an illuminating paper, and by a number of selections from famous oratorios, in which she was assisted by Mr. Perry Rush as well as by members of the club. In her paper Mrs. Riley gave a brief definition of the term, as signifying a dramatic production, of a theme often Biblical, by means of chorus, solos, and orchestra, and without the use of costumes or scenery. She showed how the oratorio rose out of the desire for something new in the religious service, and advanced along parallel lines with the opera during the sixteenth century. Then she spoke of the importance of Carissimi, an early Italian writer of oratorios, and of his pupils, Stradella and Scarlatti, seventeenth century composers. In the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries, came the development of the oratorios presenting the passion, written by Bach, Handel, Haydn, and Mendelssohn. Mrs. Riley spoke briefly of the chief works of each of these great composers, and then named the ten or twelve men who have used this form in more recent times—such men as Beethoven, Gounod, Gaul, Sullivan, Stainer and Elgar. This form of composition, she pointed out, has not had much growth in America, although there are a few names which she mentioned that has become famous in this country. Her program was as follows:

Left Thine Eyes, from "Elijah" . . . Mendelssohn

Meadames Gillen, Bruner, Riley

Contemplation, from "Holy City" . . . Gaul

W. H. M. S. Holds Splendid Meeting

It was a heartening experience to see members, husbands and friends of the Woman's Home Missionary society assemble in the Community hall of the Methodist Church for the annual church dinner at 6:00 o'clock Wednesday evening and which enables the business women of the society an opportunity to attend, and to take an active part and at the same time receive inspiration for the great Missionary program of the church. The dinner and sweet fellowship was all that could be desired. The cooperation of the members and the business committee of which Miss Dimmick was chairman, made it enjoyable. After partaking of the bountiful repast prepared by Mrs. Hays, 1st Vice-president. After the singing of a hymn, the President, Mrs. Heavenridge, spoke feelingly of the translation of Mrs. Swahlen a faithful and valued member of the church and society, after which the hymn—"Home of the Soul" was played and sung.

Miss Tillotson in charge of the devotions, chose for her lesson on the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians the reading of which never fails to inspire the spiritually minded.

Miss Margaret Ann Inman sang two numbers which were enthusiastically received.

The society is fortunate in having Mrs. Byron Wilson, a member of the auxiliary, having been a National worker and is now a conference officer in Indiana. She has first hand knowledge of Christian Missions and is able to talk intelligently on the many phases and ramifications of this important branch of Christian work.

Her subject, "The Educational Approach to Missions" is a large subject yet she was able in the short time at her disposal to indicate some of the methods by which our missionary horizon might be broadened. If one is missionary minded in the right way, self is relegated to the background and thus our mental outlook toward missions burns with a more lambent flame. The wind of progress is blowing around the world today, she said. Boundries no longer exist, radio has banished them, Methods of transportation have so multiplied that commodities of all kinds are brought to our doors without effort on our part. We are sowing seeds of thought anywhere and everywhere, and they are planted where they will grow. Quoting she said when we Evangelize America, we Christianize the world. A polyglot people speaking many languages, coming to our shores with all world traditions and customs, the much of our effort is given to the Americanization of the foreigner within our gates, which is a splendid thing to do but the Evangelization of our entire American citizenship is a challenging need, thus schools, hospitals, missions are planted all over this land of ours and other processions, with the express purpose of educating, looking towards helping those less favored to a saner and more mode of living and best of all to be taught that the Christ the great exemplar is the perfect pattern for every life.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, laxatives, water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly spry and buoyant and full of sunshine. They can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get the toxins out of your system. The reason for your poor condition is your liver. It should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a shivering, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your liver breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LIVER PILLS to get these two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel spry and up. They contain vegetable, gentian, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. Don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute.

PRESENTS BILL

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22, (UP)—The 1929 drivers' license law would become a much stricter statute under terms of a bill proposed in the legislature by Representatives Russell J. Dean, Dem., Indianapolis, and Gerrit M. Bates, Dem., Indianapolis, with the backing of the department of the secretary of state.

Gus Mueller, who became license revocation judge in the state house February 1, also supports the bill which clarifies and strengthens the existing law under which every driver of an automobile is required to be licensed.

Although the present law requires trial judges to advise the secretary of state of convictions on speeding, reckless driving and other violations of state traffic laws, the courts are slow to do so, declared Judge J. G. McCord, present revocation judge.

The new measure specifies the offenses upon which convictions must be reported to trial the judges. In addition, it requires the judges to recommend suspension of drivers' licenses for a determinate period for lesser offenses.

As under the present law, suspension for a year is mandatory upon the revocation judge when courts report convictions for drunken driving, false affidavit or commission of a felony in which an automobile is used.

An important provision of the amendment gives the revocation judge specific authority to subpoena witnesses.

Some thirty countries of Europe and Asia and on the side has found time for considerable writing on world affairs.

VONCASTLE

Unusual Cast of Stars Sparkles In "The Utah Kid"

An exceptionally scintillant cast of players is offered the patrons of the Voncastle theater this Friday and Saturday, matinee and night, in an above the ordinary western melodrama, "The Utah Kid," starring Rex Lease.

Besides the star, whose lean handsome length, all-round ability to ride, shoot and do athletic stunts in keeping with the western hero, the feminine lead is taken by Dorothy Sebastian, whose dazzling beauty recently adorned "Our Blushing Brides." The generally high calibre of the cast is kept up also by Tom Santschi, grand old fighter of the villain school, whose forbidding scowl and muscled menace are as delightfully formidable as ever; by Walter Miller, darkly handsome serial hero who plays a sheriff here in an extremely sympathetic and unusual manner; by Boris Karloff, whose villainies have graced scores of screens; by Mary Carr, grand old lady of the screen, in an "aunt" role, and others of interesting types make an exceptionally well-balanced cast.

"The Utah Kid" is extraordinarily good western entertainment. It has many interesting spots of scenery, fascinating plot and well acted and excellent recording.

Added to the Voncastle's Friday-Saturday program will be the first of a series of Monkey comedies known as "Chimp," who will be seen here in Greencastle in the first of this series entitled "Blimp Mystery," and another Silly Symphony cartoon.

Today the final showing of "The Lion and the Lamb" will hold the Voncastle's screen, which is a tense drama of London's underworld.

ANNIVERSARY LUNCHEON OF KIWANIS CLUB

large dividends in the life of the nation. Kiwanis helps men to measure their own lives and to come to some understanding of what the real measurement of life actually is. How small we measure life? This is one of the greatest questions any man ever faces. Shall we measure life in terms of time? Has the man who has lived the longest lived the best? Time is a relative term, and it is not an adequate measurement for the real worth of life. Shall we measure life in terms of our material possessions? This is a very popular standard of measurement just now. But is it an adequate one? Does real life consist in the abundance of the things which a man possesses? In our most serious moments we know that it does not. Shall we measure life in terms of success, in terms of our achievements? What do we mean by success? If we measure life in terms of success, then the man who has very low aims in life and who realized them easily, is a successful man. Life cannot be measured truly in terms of success. How then, shall we measure life? There is just one standard which meets all of the requirements. We are to measure life in terms of growth. Unless we are actually growing in our character we are not living in any real sense of the word. Unless we have a better understanding of the fundamental forces of life today than we had yesterday; unless we have a finer appreciation of beauty and truth than we had last week; unless our sympathies for our less fortunate fellows are a little deeper than they were yesterday; unless our loyalties are a little deeper, our spirits more in harmony with the Eternal Spirit at the heart of the universe, and our whole life richer and better than it was last year, we have not really lived. Kiwanis presents to men a real standard of measurement. It builds into the lives of men those eternal principles of both individual and social growth which make life really worth while.

"Kiwanis is sixteen years of age—a glorious age, mid-adolescence. If a boy or girl at this age should suddenly stop growing, we would be alarmed. Unless Kiwanis goes on from adolescence into young manhood, and then on to maturity, it will cease to live. May we help to make this a happy birthday, by pledging our renewed allegiance to the club for the future."
